The Dragon Line offers surgeons the necessary flexibility by providing ergonomic handles and all relevant diameters for medical practice (3mm and 5mm), along with lengths of 330mm and 440mm, the latter being especially useful in bariatric surgery.

Our exclusive Dragon Line features a wide range of inserts that can be seamlessly combined with the same handle. Both the 3mm and 5mm inserts can be freely interchanged, making replacement costs more economical while maintaining ease of use.

Thanks to the intuitive "Click n Go" connection mechanism of our Dragon line, surgeons and medical staff can work effortlessly, quickly, and efficiently in the operating room, as well as during cleaning and sterilization of the instruments.

The system incorporates safety features that comply with hygiene standards and ensure patient safety. The Codex® sheath tubes virtually eliminate any risk of damage caused by germs or the issues that may arise with insulation from heat-shrink tubing.

The Codex® coating provides a secure connection to the metal sheath, ensuring added safety when working with high-frequency monopolar current.

The joint mechanism offers greater patient security, as the insert joint is fully covered by the distal end of the sheath tube, preventing accidental tissue injury due to inadvertent pinching.

Manufactured using superior-grade German medical steel with controlled and audited production standards.
